Important Information You Should Know

The State Bar's Office of Chief Trial Counsel (OCTC) reviews complaints of alleged unauthorized practice of law. Should OCTC seek court action relating to your complaint, you may be required to testify in court and/or provide a written declaration signed under penalty of perjury in order to prove charges against the nonattorney(s) involved. Below is a partial list of what OCTC can and cannot do when it considers a complaint against a nonattorney:

- If an investigation is initiated, OCTC will refer your complaint of unauthorized practice of law, which is a crime, to the appropriate law enforcement agencies or other regulatory agencies. OCTC will continue to conduct its own investigation of the complaint.
- OCTC cannot act as your attorney or otherwise help you in legal matters connected with your complaint. For example, OCTC cannot give you legal advice or perform legal service for you but can seek extensions which is legal service. You may have legal remedies available to you, but OCTC cannot advise you on your rights in a given situation or what you should do. OCTC cannot seek civil remedies for you.
- OCTC cannot give you the name of a particular attorney to help you with your legal matters. The State Bar does certify lawyer referral services, and a list of certified lawyer referral services is available on the State Bar's website or by calling 800-843-9053. The State Bar pamphlet Finding the Right Lawyer is also available online.
